

Dietmar Scholich (Ed.)

Territorial Cohesion

With 18 Figures

Dietmar Scholich

1	Preface - Introduction	1
----------	-------------------------------	----------

Refereed Section

Carl-Heinz David

2	Status and Perspectives of Territorial Cohesion with Respect to European Spatial Development Policy (ESDP) - Normative and Governance Aspects	5
2.1	Main Sources of Information	6
2.2	Terminology applied	10
2.3	Expanding Territorial Cohesion in the constitutional Debate	12
2.4	Main Facets of the TC-Issue	14
2.5	Governance Aspects of Territorial Cohesion	16
2.6	Achieving Territorial Cohesion through the Results of Scientific Research	19
2.7	Normative and Governance Perspectives of TC	20
2.8	Going back to the Roots of TC?	21

Maroš Finka

3	Territorial Cohesion – Between Expectations, Disparities and Contradictions	23
3.1	The Spatial Development Process and Territorial Cohesion Concept	24
3.2	Territorial Cohesion, EU Objectives and current Development Goals	30

Hans-Peter Gatzweiler, Wendelin Strubelt

4	Regional Disparities – Reasons Enough to Run a Cohesion-Oriented Spatial Policy?	41
4.1	Spatial Equity – old and new Discussions	41
4.2	Why have a Spatial Policy oriented toward Equity?	43
4.3	Regional Disparities with Regard to Employment	47
4.4	Regional Disparities with Regard to Services for the Public	49
4.5	Conclusions concerning Spatial Policy	50

*Hans-Joachim Bürkner, Ulf Matthiesen5 Territorial Cohesion, Brain Drain and Digital Divide 53

- 5.1 Brain Drain in Eastern Germany – Increasing Governance 54
Paradoxes related to the Outcomes of Post-socialist
Peripheralization
- 5.2 Territorial Cohesion: An outdated Notion? 56
- 5.3 Knowledge and the Periphery 57
- 5.4 Conclusion 59

*Gerold Janssen6 Environmental Protection needs good Administration: 63
Ecological Applications of the New Legal Instrument
“European Groupings of Territorial Co-operation (EGTC)”

- 6.1 Legal Framework 65
- 6.2 Experience and Deficits concerning Cross-Border 69
Co-operation
- 6.3 Requirements and Tasks for an EGTC 70
- 6.4 Conclusions 77

*Joachim Burdack, Markus Hesse7 Suburbanisation, Suburbia and “Zwischenstadt”: 81
Perspectives of Research and Policy

- 7.1 Suburbanisation and Suburbia in Germany 82
- 7.2 International Perspectives: Suburbia and beyond 84
- 7.3 Main Concepts of Suburbanisation Research 88
- 7.4 Suburbia in the Planner’s Discourse: Polarized 91
Interpretations and blind Spots in the Discourse
- 7.5 Perspectives on the Future of Suburbanisation 93
Processes

*Rupert KawkaVarying Costs of Living as Compensation for Regional 101
Disparities in Germany

- 8.1 Methodological Problems 104
- 8.2 A new Glance at existing Data 106
- 8.3 Some new Results 113
- 8.4 Conclusions 117

	Markus Leibenath, Robert Knippschild
9	Territorial Cohesion and Transboundary Governance: Insights from the Polish-German and the Czech-German Borders	123
9.1	Transboundary Governance Concerning Policies with a Spatial Impact	125
9.2	Empirical Lenses on the Polish-German and Czech-German Borders	129
9.3	Conclusions	141

Short Reports

	Kristine Müller, Sabine Zillmer
10	Spatial Development Strategies in the Enlarged EU: ESPON Project 1.2.3 on Spatially Relevant Aspects of the Information Society	151
10.1	Territorial Characteristics of the Information Society in Europe	152
10.2	Information Society Status and Trends in Germany	154
10.3	Information Society in a German Peripheral Region – the Case of Tuttlingen	155
10.4	Conclusions	157
	Eva Reisinger
11	IRS Participates in EU-funded Research Project “Governance for Sustainability”	159

Appendix
List of Authors	163

Appendix
Portrait of the Editors Institutions	171