

Pathological Realities

Essays on Disease, Experiments, and History

Mirko D. Grmek

*Edited, translated, and with an
Introduction by Pierre-Olivier Méthot
Foreword by Hans-Jörg Rheinberger*

FORDHAM UNIVERSITY PRESS
NEW YORK 2019

CONTENTS

Foreword by Hans-Jörg Rheinberger	ix
Editor and Translator's Note	xiii
 Introduction: Mirko Grmek's Investigative Pathway Pierre-Olivier Méthot	 I
 Part I. Pathocenosis: Diseases in History
1. Preliminaries for a Historical Study of Diseases	31
2. The Concept of Emerging Disease	41
3. Some Unorthodox Views and a Selection Hypothesis on the Origin of the AIDS Viruses	55
 Part II. Experiments and Concepts in Life Sciences
4. First Steps in Claude Bernard's Discovery of the Glycogenic Function of the Liver	75
5. The Causes and the Nature of Ageing	86
6. A Survey of the Mechanical Interpretations of Life from the Greek Atomists to the Followers of Descartes	104
 Part III. History of Science: The Laboratory of Epistemology
7. A Plea for Freeing the History of Scientific Discoveries from Myth	123

Part IV. Memoricide: War and the Eradication of Cultural Memory

8. A Memoricide 157

9. Dubrovnik: The Slavic Athens 159

Acknowledgments 167

Notes 171

Bibliography 217

Index 247