

This report contains the collective views of an international group of experts and does not necessarily represent the decisions or the stated policy of the World Health Organization

WHO Technical Report Series

838

INCREASING THE RELEVANCE OF EDUCATION FOR HEALTH PROFESSIONALS

Report of a WHO Study Group on
Problem-Solving Education for the Health Professions

World Health Organization

Geneva 1993

Contents

1. The need for a fresh look at the education of health professionals	1
2. Learning from innovations in the education of health professionals	2
2.1 Educational innovations	2
2.2 Measuring the effects of educational innovations	5
3. Creating links with new partners	9
3.1 Identifying and solving priority health problems in and with the community	10
3.2 Working in the community	13
3.3 Shaping health policy	15
4. Strategies for change applied to health systems and to educational institutions	16
4.1 Barriers to change	16
4.2 Strategies for change	18
5. Organizational and practical issues	21
5.1 Getting started	21
5.2 Resource needs for curricular development	21
5.3 Community sites	22
5.4 Creating favourable administrative structures	23
6. Conclusions	24
7. Recommendations	25
7.1 Recommendations to educational institutions	25
7.2 Recommendations to Member States	25
7.3 Recommendations to WHO	26
Acknowledgements	26
References	27
Recommended further reading	28