

Criminalization

The Political Morality of the Criminal Law

Edited by
R A DUFF
LINDSAY FARMER
S E MARSHALL
MASSIMO RENZO
VICTOR TADROS

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Table of Contents

List of Contributors	ix
1. Introduction: Towards a Theory of Criminalization? R A Duff, Lindsay Farmer, S E Marshall, Massimo Renzo, and Victor Tadros	1
2. Quantifying Criminalization James Chalmers and Fiona Leverick	54
3. Criminal Law as an Institution: Rethinking Theoretical Approaches to Criminalization Lindsay Farmer	80
4. Bureaucratic 'Criminal' Law: Too Much of a Bad Thing? Jeremy Horder	101
5. Criminalization in Republican Theory Philip Pettit	132
6. Contractarian Criminal Law Theory and Mala Prohibita Offences Susan Dimock	151
7. Liberty's Constraints on What Should be Made Criminal Michael S Moore	182
8. Polygamy: A Novel Test for a Theory of Criminalization Douglas Husak	213
9. Civil Peace and Criminalization Anthony Bottoms	232
10. Marginality, Ethnicity, and Penalty: A Bourdieusian Perspective on Criminalization Loïc Wacquant	270
11. 'It Isn't Just About You': Victims of Crime, their Associated Duties, and Public Wrongs S E Marshall	291
Index	307