

EU External Relations Law

TEXT, CASES AND MATERIALS

Bart Van Vooren and Ramses A. Wessel

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

Table of cases	xii
Table of instruments and legislation	xviii
Preface	xxix
Acknowledgements	xxxvi
List of abbreviations	xxxvii

1 The EU as a global legal actor	1
1 Central issues	1
2 The nature of the EU as an international actor	1
(i) An international organization or something else?	1
(ii) The EU and its Member States in the international legal order	5
3 The architecture of EU external relations in the Treaties	7
(i) The Treaty on European Union: a bird's-eye view	9
(ii) Treaty on the Functioning of the Union and external relations: a bird's-eye view	16
4 Introducing the key players	19
(i) The European External Action Service and the High Representative	19
(ii) The European Council	24
(iii) The Council	25
(iv) The Commission	26
(v) The European Parliament	27
(vi) The Court of Justice	28
(vii) The Member States	30
5 The broader picture of EU external relations law	30
Sources and further reading	31
2 Instruments of EU external action	34
1 Central issues	34
2 A typology of instruments of EU external action	34
3 EU internal instruments	35
(i) Hard law in EU external relations	35
(ii) Soft law in EU external relations	36
4 International agreements	40
(i) The legal nature of international agreements	40
(ii) Express and implied competences	42
(iii) Concluding international agreements	45
(iv) Soft legal international agreements	53

5	Types of international agreements	55
	(i) Mixed agreements	55
	(ii) Association, accession and withdrawal agreements	63
	(iii) Accession to international organizations	66
	(iv) (The future of) international agreements concluded by the Member States only	66
6	The broader picture of EU external relations law	71
	Sources and further reading	72
3	Existence of EU external competence	74
1	Central issues	74
2	The principle of conferral	74
3	Express existence of external competence	76
4	Implied existence of external competence	80
	(i) The ERTA doctrine: effet utile and implied powers	81
	(ii) Implication without prior internal legislation: 'Necessity'	88
	(iii) Review: express and implied existence of external competence	91
5	Residual implied external competence: Article 352 TFEU	91
6	CFSP: a sui generis competence	94
7	The broader picture of EU external relations law	96
	Sources and further reading	97
4	Nature of EU external competence	99
1	Central issues	99
2	Introduction: scope of EU law versus scope of EU powers	99
3	Categories of exclusive and shared competences	100
	(i) Two categories	100
	(ii) Exclusive external competences	100
	(iii) Shared external competences	102
	(iv) The nature of external competences as codified by the Lisbon Treaty	106
4	A priori exclusive competence: policy area exclusivity	108
5	Shared pre-emptive competence: conditional exclusivity	109
	(i) Express and implied shared competences in the TFEU	109
	(ii) Two types of conditional exclusive powers	111
	(iii) First type of conditional exclusivity: ERTA pre-emption	111
	(iv) Second type of conditional exclusivity: necessity	126
	(v) Constitutional justification and effect of ERTA pre-emption	128
6	Shared non-pre-emptive (complementary) powers: development policy and humanitarian aid	131
7	The broader picture of EU external relations law	132
	Sources and further reading	135
5	Scope and choice of EU external competence	138
1	Central issues	138
2	Appropriate legal basis: conferral and intra-EU politics	138
	(i) Introduction: scope and choice of legal basis	138
	(ii) Constitutional importance of correct legal basis: conferral and institutional balance	139
3	The two-pronged 'appropriate legal basis' test: scope and centre of gravity	142
4	The first step: scope of EU external competence	143
	(i) Trade legal basis case law pre-Maastricht	143
	(ii) Post-Maastricht: towards a general balance of competences	147

5	The second step: centre-of-gravity test	158
	(i) Overview of key components of the test	158
	(ii) Aim of the instrument: a textual examination	160
	(iii) Content of the instrument: strong, direct and immediate effect on aim	162
	(iv) Outcome of the centre-of-gravity test: possible complications	179
	(v) Annulment for incorrect legal basis: legal and political effects	183
6	The broader picture of EU external relations law	186
	Sources and further reading	188
6	The duty of cooperation	189
1	Central issues	189
2	Legal foundation of the duty of cooperation: distinct from pre-emption	189
3	Scope of application of the duty of cooperation	192
	(i) A policy timeline with two phases	192
	(ii) Earliest case law: an open-ended best efforts obligation	194
	(iii) First signs of a turn to an obligation of result	197
	(iv) IMO judgment: true reciprocity in the duty of cooperation?	199
	(v) The latest iteration: stretching the timeline and a duty to remain silent	200
4	The broader picture of EU external relations law	205
	Sources and further reading	207
7	EU law and international law	208
1	Central issues	208
2	The relationship between EU law and international law	209
	(i) An autonomous EU legal order ...?	209
	(ii) A monist or dualist relationship?	218
3	The effects of international law within the EU legal order	224
	(i) Internal effects of international law and external effects of EU law	224
	(ii) Direct applicability of international agreements	228
	(iii) International customary law and EU law	233
	(iv) The doctrine of consistent interpretation	238
4	International responsibility	240
5	The broader picture of EU external relations law	243
	Sources and further reading	243
8	The EU and international institutions	246
1	Central issues	246
2	Introduction	246
3	Treaty competences related to the participation of the EU in international institutions	247
	(i) Implied and express competences	247
	(ii) Specific areas indicated in the Treaties and the role of Member States	251
4	International institutions in which the EU has a legal position	253
	(i) Membership	253
	(ii) Observer status	255
5	Representation in international institutions	257
	(i) Coordination of positions	257
	(ii) Delivery of EU démarches on behalf of the EU and/or its Member States	260
6	The EU in key international institutions	264
	(i) The World Trade Organization	264
	(ii) The United Nations	267

7	The influence of international organizations on the EU	270
8	The broader picture of EU external relations law	273
	Sources and further reading	274
9	Common Commercial Policy	276
1	Central issues	276
2	Introduction	276
3	Principles and instruments of the Common Commercial Policy	277
	(i) Primary law provisions	277
	(ii) Specific instruments and policies	281
4	The role of the institutions and decision-making	291
	(i) The Commission	291
	(ii) The Council	292
	(iii) The European Parliament	294
	(iv) The Court of Justice	297
5	Development of the CCP: the internal market and external trade	306
	(i) The internal market and GATT/WTO	306
	(ii) Protecting the internal market	308
	(iii) Extending the internal market	308
6	The broader picture of EU external relations law	309
	Sources and further reading	310
10	EU development policy	311
1	Central issues	311
2	The three C's of EU development policy: complementary, coherent and coordinated	312
3	A brief history of EU development policy	314
	(i) A succession of treaties and conventions: Rome, Yaoundé, Lomé and Cotonou	314
	(ii) Complementarity of EU development policy: position of the Member States	321
4	Coherence in EU development policy: evolving scope and link with other policies	325
	(i) 'Policy Coherence for Development': legal and policy dimensions	325
	(ii) EU development policy and human rights conditionality	327
	(iii) The relationship between development and security policy	329
5	Vertical and horizontal coordination in EU development policy	336
	(i) Introduction	336
	(ii) Multi-track financing of development cooperation: EDF and EU budget	336
	(iii) Executing EU development policy: the Commission and EEAS	340
6	The broader picture of EU external relations law	343
	Sources and further reading	344
11	Common Foreign and Security Policy	346
1	Central issues	346
2	Introduction	346
3	The nature of CFSP	348
	(i) The position of the CFSP in the Treaty	348
	(ii) The choice for the correct legal basis	351
	(iii) Explaining the nature of CFSP	357
4	Member State obligations under CFSP	366
	(i) The information and consultation obligation	366
	(ii) The loyalty obligation	367

- 5 CFSP decision-making and the role of the institutions 368
 - (i) The European Council 369
 - (ii) The Council 370
 - (iii) The High Representative and the EEAS 372
 - (iv) The European Commission 375
 - (v) The role of the European Parliament: a democratic deficit in CFSP? 375
 - (vi) The Court of Justice of the European Union 376
- 6 CFSP instruments 381
 - (i) Informal instruments 381
 - (ii) Legal acts 382
- 7 The broader picture of EU external relations law 397
 - Sources and further reading 398

12 Common Security and Defence Policy 400

- 1 Central issues 400
- 2 Introduction 400
- 3 Decision-making in CSDP 402
 - (i) The substantive CSDP treaty provisions 402
 - (ii) A common defence policy and the solidarity clause 403
 - (iii) The institutionalization of CSDP 405
 - (iv) CSDP decisions and international agreements 411
- 4 The sudden emergence of CSDP 420
- 5 CSDP missions and operations 426
 - (i) The coming of age of CSDP operations 426
 - (ii) CSDP operations and international humanitarian law 428
 - (iii) The responsibilities of the EU as a global security actor 429
 - (iv) The EU as a regional agency in the sense of the UN Charter 433
- 6 The broader picture of EU external relations law 436
 - Sources and further reading 436

13 The external dimension of the internal energy market 438

- 1 Central issues 438
- 2 Introduction 438
- 3 Express conferral of a shared internal competence 439
 - (i) Developments in the EU internal energy market 439
 - (ii) The energy legal basis: Article 194 TFEU 440
- 4 EU external energy policy: internal challenges 'externalized' 442
 - (i) Objectives of EU internal energy policy 443
 - (ii) Challenges to EU internal energy policy 444
 - (iii) Internal objectives and challenges externalized 446
- 5 Instruments of EU external energy policy 450
 - (i) External dimension of the internal market: ownership unbundling 450
 - (ii) Externalizing the acquis: Energy Community Treaty 454
 - (iii) Bilateral energy instruments: international agreements and soft law 455
- 6 The role of the institutions in external energy policy 458
 - (i) The Commission, Member States, HR/VP and EEAS 458
 - (ii) The European Parliament 460
- 7 The EU–Member States' duty of cooperation in energy 461
 - (i) Origin and rationale of the decision 461
 - (ii) Article 194(2) TFEU: Member State intergovernmental agreements 462

(iii) Formalizing the duty of cooperation towards the 'EU interest'	464
(iv) Scope of application of the Energy Decision	465
(v) The obligation to provide information on existing agreements	467
(vi) Obligations relating to negotiating new agreements	468
(vii) The consequences of Member State compliance with the information duty	469
(viii) Commission assistance during negotiations	470
(ix) The use of optional standard clauses	471
(x) An 'EU' energy policy and coordination 'among' the Member States	472
8 The broader picture of EU external relations law	473
Sources and further reading	473
14 The external dimension of freedom, security and justice	475
1 Central issues	475
2 The external dimension of an internal concept	475
(i) The AFSJ as an internal, organizational concept	475
(ii) Scope of the AFSJ, and position of the Member States	477
(iii) The relation between the internal and external dimension	479
3 External competences in the AFSJ	481
(i) AFSJ external competences in the Treaties	481
(ii) The role of the institutions	482
(iii) Opt-outs	494
4 The emergence of the external dimension of the AFSJ	496
(i) Pre-Lisbon external competences: fragmentation across pillars	496
(ii) Milestones in the development of the external dimension of the AFSJ	499
5 The external dimension of the main AFSJ policy areas	504
(i) Policies on border checks, asylum and immigration	504
(ii) Judicial cooperation in civil matters	506
(iii) Judicial cooperation in criminal matters	509
(iv) Data protection in international agreements	511
6 The broader picture of EU external relations law	513
Sources and further reading	513
15 The EU and its neighbours	516
1 Central issues	516
2 EU enlargement policy: procedure and criteria	517
(i) Treaty basis and procedure of EU enlargement	517
(ii) The 'conditions of eligibility': the Copenhagen criteria	520
3 EU enlargement policy in practice: the fifth enlargement	525
(i) Prelude: the first four rounds of enlargement	525
(ii) Trade and Cooperation Agreements and PHARE (end 1980s)	526
(iii) Contractual relations with the CEECs and the NIS (1989–1993)	527
(iv) From Europe Agreement to enhanced pre-accession policy (1993–1997)	529
(v) The 2004 'big bang' enlargement	531
4 The future of EU enlargement policy?	532
5 The European Neighbourhood Policy	536
(i) The ENP legal basis: EU competence or objective?	536
(ii) Predecessors to the ENP	538
6 Key features of the ENP	540
(i) Geographic scope: confluence of geopolitics and Member State interests	542
(ii) Objectives: a stable and prosperous neighbourhood for a secure union	543
(iii) Methodology: inspiration from enlargement	547

7	Instruments: hybrid legal nature of the ENP	548
	(i) Soft law in the ENP	548
	(ii) Soft law in EU external relations	551
8	The future of the ENP?	552
9	EU relations with other neighbouring countries	553
	(i) EU relations with the Russian Federation	554
	(ii) EU relations with the EEA/EFTA countries	555
	(iii) The SAP in the Western Balkans	561
10	The broader picture of EU external relations law	565
	Sources and further reading	567

	Index	570
--	--------------	-----