

Power Objects in Tibetan Buddhism

The Life, Writings, and Legacy of Sokdokpa Lodrö Gyeltsen

By

James Duncan Gentry

BRILL

LEIDEN | BOSTON

Contents

Acknowledgments IX

Note on Translation, Critical Apparatus, and Transliteration XII

Map: Places Important in the Life and Legacy of Sokdokpa Lodrö
Gyeltsen (1552–1624) XIV

Introduction 1

Objects That Matter 7

Object-Person Interactions in Theory and Practice 15

PART I

Objects in Narrative

Introduction to Part 1 35

1 In the Vicinity of Things—Substance, Violence, and Power in the Milieu of Sokdokpa Lodrö Gyeltsen (1552–1624) 37

Introduction 37

The Shifting Tides of Clerical Influence and Authority: Religion,
Politics, and Materiality in the Time of Sokdokpa 37

Sokdokpa's Influences and Milieu: Violent Rites, Brahmin Flesh, and
Other Object-oriented Bonds 56

Treasure Revealer Zhikpo Lingpa: Political Leader of Nangtsé and Guru of Sokdokpa 56

*Sokdokpa's Influences from the Frontier: The Mön Treasure
Revealers Yongdzin Ngawang Drakpa and Tuksé Dawa
Gyeltsen* 75

Reflections on the Convergence of Political Power, Ritual, and Substance in Sokdokpa's Milieu 86

2 Prowess and Persona in the Wielding of Things—Exorcisms, Objects, and Insights in the Life and Literary Career of a Mongol-repelling Scholar-Adept 90

The Spiritual and Material Life of an Exorcist Yogi 90

A Literature of Precedent, Protection, and Perfection: The Writings of Sokdokpa Lodrö Gyeltsen 133

Apologia and Theory 137

Narrative 138

Liturgy and Ritual Commentary 139

Rhetoric of an Exorcist: The Construction of Sokdokpa's Public Identity 140

Persuasion, Cynicism, and Deceit in Sokdokpa's Use of Prophecy 143

Righteousness, Infamy, and Authority in Ritual Prowess 152

Personal Qualifications for Ritual Prowess 160

Final Reflections on Sokdokpa's Rhetoric in the 'History' 165

PART 2

Objects in Theory and Practice

3 Controversies over Things—Drawing, Blurring, and Crossing Boundaries 171

Introduction 171

Visionary Glimpses 186

Powerful Speech 216

Amulet Practice 236

Brahmin Flesh and Other "Liberating" Edibles 259

Concluding Remarks 284

4 Things in Action and the Actions of Things—A Dynamic Ontology of Ritual Objects 291

Introduction 291

Sokdokpa's Matters of Concern 293

Incorporation, Contact, and Ingestion in Pill Practices 296

Brahmin Flesh: Discourse, Performance, and Consumption 296

Mediated Origins, Hybrid Ingredients 296

Multimedia Ritual Accomplishment 303

Deity Yoga in the Creation of Self and Other 305

Pills as "Catalysts" and "Vehicles" 310

Ambrosia: Medicinal Concoction and Tantric Sacrament 316

Edible Concoctions of Power: Common Patterns 318

The Efficacy of Ambrosia Ingredients: Categories and

Homologies 322

The Orthopraxy of Aesthetic Criteria 327

Knowledge and its Consequences 331

Artifacts of Violence, Substances of Danger 332

The Contagion of Danger and Death 333

The Orthopraxy of Violence 336

Materializing and Mastering Unseen Forces	341
Violent Outbursts, the Call to Collective Action, and Other Publicly Observable Aspects of Efficacy	345
"Signs" of Success and Their Signified Outcomes	347
Creating the Self through Killing the Other	349
Concluding Remarks on Enemy-oriented Rites	354
Vision, Exegesis, and Touch in the Use of Initiation Substances and Introduction Props	356
Materiality and Meaning in the Nine-Vehicle Initiation Ritual	357
The Visual and Tactile Reception of Objects	358
The Communicative Competency of Things	360
Substance and Sign in the Complex Semiotics of Objects	361
In the Mirror of Mind: Sense and Semiosis in a Mind-Nature Introduction Liturgy	363
Materiality and Meaning in the Use of Initiation Substance	364
Artifacts in the Rapprochement of Subject-Object Duality	366
Iconicity and Exegesis in the Semiosis of Props	369
Final Reflections on Sokdokpa's Ritual Ethos	371

PART 3

Aftereffects

5 Continuities and Contentions over Things—The Legacy of Sokdokpa and the Material Links of Political Authority	379
Introduction	379
The Legacy of Sokdokpa and His Milieu in the Writings of the Fifth Dalai Lama	384
The Legacy of Sokdokpa and His Milieu Among Tibet's Old School Lineages	408
The Legacy of Sokdokpa and His Milieu in the "Hidden Land" of Sikkim	415
Vase Water That Liberates upon Tasting	418
The Black King Kang Yamāntaka Effigy Burial Rite	422
Contemporary Sikkimese Scholarship	425
Final Reflections	428

Final Considerations 431

Appendix 443

Bibliography 464

Index 494