Master's thesis
presented to the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences of the University of Zurich for the degree of Master of Arts UZH in Social Sciences

Women with Immigrational Background on the Swiss Labour Market
An Analysis of their Labour Market Returns

Author: Lirija Sejdi
Student ID Nr.: 11-121-035

Examiner: Prof. Dr. Jörg Rössel

Institute of Sociology

Submission date: 11.12.2018
Contents

List of Tables  p.  V
List of Figures  p.  V

1. Introduction  p.  1
2. Introductory Specifications  p.  3
   2.1 The Classification of Sex  p.  3
   2.2 Immigrational Background  p.  4
   2.3 Status Scales and Employment Adequacy  p.  6
   2.4 The Swiss Labour Market and Immigrational Background in Switzerland  p.  7
3. Theoretical Approaches  p.  10
   3.1 The Concept of Intersectionality  p.  10
   3.2 Neoclassical Basis  p.  12
   3.3 The Theories of Human Capital  p.  14
   3.4 Signaling and Filter Theories  p.  17
      3.4.1 The Signaling-Theory  p.  17
      3.4.2 Filter Approach  p.  18
   3.5 Discrimination Theories  p.  19
      3.5.1 Statistical Discrimination  p.  20
      3.5.2 Tastes for Discrimination  p.  21
   3.6 Returns and Devaluation of Human Capital  p.  23
   3.7 Sociocultural Influences  p.  25
4. State of Research  p.  29
   4.1 International State of Research  p.  29
      4.1.1 International research concerning the access to the labour market  p.  29
      4.1.2 International Research Concerning the Experiences on the Labour Market  p.  31
   4.2 State of Research Concerning Switzerland  p.  33
      4.2.1 Research Concerning the Access to the Swiss Labour Market  p.  34
4.2.2 Research Concerning the Experiences on the Swiss Labour Market

5. Hypotheses
   p. 35

6. Data and methods
   p. 38
   6.1 The data
   p. 40
   6.2 Operationalisation
   p. 40
      6.2.1 Dependent Variables
      p. 41
      6.2.2 Independent Variables
      p. 43
   6.3 Models and Methods
   p. 47

7. Empirical Results
   p. 50
   7.1 Descriptive Analyses
   p. 50
      7.1.1 Dependent variables
      p. 50
      7.1.2 Independent Variables
      p. 51
   7.2 Main Analyses
   p. 54
      7.2.1 Analysing the occupational status in the Swiss Labour Market
      p. 55
      7.2.2 Analysis of an adequate occupational position
      p. 58
      7.2.3 Analysis of the subjective evaluation of employment adequacy
      p. 61

8. Discussion
   p. 65

9. References
   p. 68

10. Website Reference List
    p. 74

11. Appendix
    p. 75